Introduction

Welcome to collection No. 3!

This collection is primarily a compilation of items circulating in the Email circuits, or as hard copy in our work places. They come, they go, they come around again. . .

No one knows where they originate, nor where they'll end up, hopefully with a few laughs along the way.

This edition also includes some of my all time favorite cartoons as well (bit more racy than usual though).

If you take offense along the way, well, change the gender, hair color or nationality of the brunt of the joke to something else.

None are meant to offend, it's a sad state when we can't laugh at ourselves, with each other.

Not all are in the best of taste, if I had to rate some, this would be rated PG (for Partially Gagging)! I tried weeding out objectionable material, but, it got to where what is objectional from one person to the next (besides I ended up with a much smaller volume)!

Anyways, there all here uncensored. . .

You've been warned, if you can't take a joke, proceed no further. . .

If you do, enjoy and have a good laugh. . .

12 things school does NOT teach you

Rule 1: Life is not fair, get used to it.

Rule 2: The world won't care about your self-esteem. The world will expect you to accomplish something before you feel good about yourself.

Rule 3: You will not make 40 thousand dollars a year right out of high school. You won't be a vice president with a car phone until you earn both.

Rule 4: If you think your teacher is tough, wait till you get a boss. He doesn't have tenure or belong to a union with a death grip on your parents' property.

Rule 5: Flipping burgers is not beneath your dignity. Your grandparents had a different word for burger flipping; they called it opportunity.

Rule 6: If you screw up, it's not your parents' fault so don't whine about your mistakes. Learn from them.

Rule 7: Before you were born your parents weren't as boring as they are now. They got that way paying your bills. Cleaning your room, and listening to you tell them how idealistic you are. So before you save the rain forest from the bloodsucking parasites of your parents' generation, try delousing the closet in your own room.

Rule 8: Your school may have done away with winners and losers but life has not. In some schools they have abolished failing grades, they'll give you as many times as you want to get the right answer. This, of course, bears not the slightest resemblance to anything in real life.

Rule 9: Life is not divided into semesters. You don't get summers off, and very few employers are interested in helping you find yourself. Do that on your own time.

Rule 10: Television is not real life. In real life people actually have to leave the coffee shop and go to jobs.

Rule 11: Be nice to nerds. Chances are you'll end up working for one.

Rule 12: Living fast and dying young is romantic - only until you see one of your peers at room temperature.

THEN & NOW 1945-1999

1945 - NCO's had a typewriter on their desks for doing daily reports.

1999 - everyone has an Internet access computer, and they wonder why no work is getting done.

1945 - we painted pictures of girls on airplanes to remind us of home.

1999 - they put the real thing in the cockpit.

1945 - your girlfriend was at home praying you would return alive.

1999 - she is in the same trench praying your condom worked.

1945 - if you got drunk off duty your buddies would take you back to the barracks to sleep it off.

1999 - if you get drunk they slap you in rehab and ruin your career.

1945 - you were taught to aim at your enemy and shoot him.

1999 - you spray 500 bullets into the brush, don't hit anything, & retreat because you're out of ammo.

- 1945 - canteens were made of steel, and you could heat coffee or hot chocolate in them.
 1999 - canteens are made of plastic, you can't heat anything in them, and they always taste like plastic.
- 1945 - officers were professional soldiers first and they commanded respect.
 1999 - officers are politicians first and beg not to be given a wedgie.
- 1945 - they collected enemy intelligence and analyzed it.
 1999 - they collect your pee and analyze it.
- 1945 - if you didn't act right, the Sergeant Major put you in the brig until you straightened up.
 1999 - if you don't act right, they start a paper trail that follows you forever.
- 1945 - medals were awarded to heroes who saved lives at the risk of their own.
 1999 - medals are awarded to people who work at headquarters.
- 1945 - you slept in barracks like a soldier.
 1999 - you sleep in a dormitory like a college kid.
- 1945 - you ate in a mess hall, which was free, and you could have all the food you wanted.
 1999 - you eat in a dining facility, every slice of bread or pad of butter costs, and you better not take too much.
- 1945 - we defeated powerful countries like Germany and Japan.
 1999 - we come up short against Iraq and Yugoslavia.
- 1945 - if you wanted to relax, you went to the rec center, played pool, smoked and drank beer.
 1999 - you go to the community center, and you can play pool.
- 1945 - if you wanted beer and conversation you went to the NCO or Officers' Club.
 1999 - the beer will cost you $2.75, membership is forced, and someone is watching how much you drink.
- 1945 - the Exchange had bargains for soldiers who didn't make much money.
 1999 - you can get better and cheaper merchandise at Walmart.
- 1945 - we could recognize the enemy by their Nazi helmets.
 1999 - we are wearing the Nazi helmets.
- 1945 - we called the enemy names like "Krauts" and "Japs" because we didn't like them.
 1999 - we call the enemy the "opposing force" or "aggressor" because we don't want to offend them.
- 1945 - victory was declared when the enemy was defeated and all his things were broken.
 1999 - victory is declared when the enemy says he is sorry.
- 1945 - a commander would put his butt on the line to protect his people.
 1999 - a commander will put his people on the line to protect his butt.
- 1945 - wars were planned and run by generals with lots of important victories.
 1999 - wars are planned by politicians with lots of equivocating.
- 1945 - we were fighting for freedom, and the country was committed to winning.
 1999 - we don't know what we're fighting for, and the government is committed to social programs (used to be called 'socialism').

1945 - all you could think about was getting out and becoming a civilian again.
 1999 - all you can think about is getting out and becoming a civilian again.

30 Harsh Things To Say To A Naked Guy

1. I've smoked fatter joints than that.
2. Ahhhh, it's cute!
3. Why don't we just cuddle?
4. You know they have surgery to fix that.
5. Make it dance.
6. Can I paint a smiley face on it?
7. Wow, and your feet are so big.
8. It's OK, we'll work around it.
9. Will it squeak if I squeeze it?
10. Oh no... a flash headache.
11. (giggle and point)
12. Can I be honest with you?
13. How sweet, you brought incense.
14. This explains your car.
15. Maybe if we water it, it'll grow.
16. Why is God punishing me?
17. At least this won't take long.
18. I never saw one like that before.
19. But it still works, right?
20. It looks so unused.
21. Maybe it looks better in natural light.
22. Why don't we skip right to the cigarettes?
23. Are you cold?
24. If you get me real drunk first.
25. Is that an optical illusion?
26. What is that?
27. It's a good thing you have so many other talents.
28. Does it come with an air pump?
29. So this is why you're supposed to judge people on personality.
30. I guess this makes me the early bird.

Air Safety

Actual Air Traffic Control Humor

A Huey Cobra practicing autorotations during a military night training exercise had a problem and landed on the tail rotor, separating the tail boom. Fortunately, it wound up on its skids, sliding down the runway doing 360s in a brilliant shower of sparks. As the Cobra passed the tower, the following exchange was overheard:

Tower: "Sir, do you need any assistance?"

Cobra: "I don't know, tower. We ain't done crashin' yet!"

*****

The controller working a busy pattern told the 727 on downwind to make a three-sixty (do a complete circle, usually to provide spacing between aircraft). The pilot of the 727 complained, "Do you know it costs us two thousand dollars to make a three-sixty in this airplane?" Without missing a beat the controller replied, "Roger, give me four thousand dollars worth!"

*****

PSA was following United, taxiing out for departure. PSA called the tower and said "Tower, this is United 586. We've got a little problem, so go ahead and let PSA go first". The tower promptly cleared PSA for takeoff before United 586 had a chance to object to the impersonation!

*****

A DC-10 had an exceedingly long landing rollout after landing with his approach speed just a little too high. "American 751 Heavy, turn right at the end if able. If not able, take the Guadalupe exit off of Hiway 101 back to the airport."

*****

A male pilot is a confused soul who talks about women when he's flying and about flying when he's with a woman.

*****

It was a really nice day, right about dusk, and a Piper Malibu was being vectored into a long line of airliners in order to land at Kansas City:

KC Approach: "Malibu three-two-Charlie, you're following 727, one o'clock and three miles."

Three-two-Charlie: "We've got him. We'll follow him."

KC Approach: "Delta 105, your traffic to follow is a Malibu, eleven o'clock and three miles. Do you have that traffic?"

Delta 105: (long pause and then in a thick southern drawl): "Well.....I've got something down there. Can't quite tell if it's a Malibu or a Chevelle, though."

*****

Tower: "Eastern 702, cleared for takeoff, contact Departure on 124.7."

Eastern 702: "Tower, Eastern 702 switching to Departure...by the way, as we lifted off, we saw some kind of dead animal on the far end of the runway."

Tower: "Continental 635, cleared for takeoff, contact Departure on 124.7...did you copy the report from Eastern?"

Continental 635: "Continental 635, cleared for takeoff ...and yes, we copied Eastern and we've already notified our caterers."

*****

O'Hare Approach Control: "United 329, traffic is a Fokker, one o'clock, 3 miles, eastbound."

United 329: "Approach, I've always wanted to say this ...I've got that Fokker in sight."

Clinton is looking out of the window and notices that someone has spelled out Bill Sucks in urine in the snow on the White House lawn. Furious, he orders the FBI to take urine and handwriting samples from every member of the White House staff and find the culprit immediately. A week later the FBI director calls, "Mr. President, I have good news and Bad news", he says. The good news is that the urine belongs to Vice President Gore. And the bad news? Clinton demands. Well sir, the handwriting belongs to Hilary.

The Cynic's Guide to Life OR Casey's Rules

1. Always follow your dream! Unless it's the one where you're at work in your underwear during a fire drill.
2. Always take time to stop and smell the roses and sooner or later, you'll inhale a bee.
3. Do not walk behind me, for I may not lead. Do not walk ahead of me, for, I may not follow. Do not walk beside me, either. Just leave me alone.
4. If you don't like my driving, don't call anyone. Just take another road. That's why the highway department made so many of them.
5. If a motorist cuts you off, just turn the other cheek. Nothing gets the message across like a good mooning.
6. When I'm feeling down, I like to whistle. It makes the neighbor's dog run to the end of his chain and gag himself.
7. It's always darkest before the dawn. So if you're going to steal the neighbor's newspaper, that's the time to do it.
8. A handy telephone tip: Keep a small chalkboard near the phone. That way, when a salesman calls, you can hold the receiver up to it and run your fingernails across it until he hangs up.
9. Each day I try to enjoy something from each of the four food groups: the bonbon group, the salty-snack group, the caffeine group and the Whatever-the-thing-in-the-foil-at-the-back-of-the-fridge-is" group.
10. Into every life some rain must fall. Usually when your car windows are down.
11. Just remember: You gotta break some eggs to make a real mess on the neighbor's car!
12. When you find yourself getting irritated with someone, try to remember that all men are brothers and just give them a noogie or an Indian burn.
13. This morning I woke up to the unmistakable scent of pigs in a blanket. That's the price you pay for letting the relatives stay over.

14. It's a small world. So you gotta use your elbows a lot.

15. Keep your nose to the grindstone and your shoulder to the wheel. It's a lot cheaper than plastic surgery.

16. This land is your land. This land is my land. So stay on your land.

17. Love is like a roller coaster: When it's good you don't want to get off, and when it isn't, you can't wait to throw up.

Ultimate Air-bag

"It's the latest innovation in office safety.
When your computer crashes, an air bag is activated so you won't bang your head in frustration."

Computers according to the movies:

Word processors never display a cursor.

You never have to use the space bar when typing long sentences.

All monitors display inch-high letters.

High-tech computers, such as those used by NASA, the CIA, or some such governmental institution, will have easy-to-understand graphical interfaces.

Those that don't will have incredibly powerful text-based command shells that can correctly understand and execute commands typed in plain English.

Corollary: You can gain access to any information you want by simply typing "ACCESS ALL OF THE SECRET FILES" on any keyboard.

Likewise, you can infect a computer with a destructive virus by simply typing "UPLOAD VIRUS." (See "Fortress")

All computers are connected. You can access the information on the villain's desktop computer, even if it's turned off.

Powerful computers beep whenever you press a key or whenever the screen changes. Some computers also slow down the output on the screen so that it doesn't go faster than you can read. The *really* advanced ones also emulate the sound of a dot-matrix printer.

All computer panels have thousands of volts and flash pots just underneath the surface. A bright flash, a puff of smoke, a shower of sparks, and an explosion that forces you backward indicate malfunctions.

People typing away on a computer will turn it off without saving the data.

A hacker can get into the most sensitive computer in the world before intermission and guess the secret password in two tries.

Any PERMISSION DENIED has an OVERRIDE function. (See "Demolition Man" and countless others)

Complex calculations and loading of huge amounts of data will be accomplished in under three seconds. Movie modems transmit data at a speed of two gigabytes per second.

When the power plant/missile site/whatever overheats, all the control panels will explode, as will the entire building.

If you display a file on the screen and someone deletes the file, it also disappears from the screen. (e.g., "Clear and Present Danger")

If a disk has got encrypted files, you are automatically asked for a password when you try to access it.

No matter what kind of computer disk it is, it'll be readable by any system you put it into. All application software is usable by all computer platforms.

The more high-tech the equipment, the more buttons it has ("Aliens"). However, everyone must have been highly trained, because the buttons aren't labeled.

Most computers, no matter how small, have reality-defying three-dimensional, real-time, photo-realistic animated graphics capability.

Laptops, for some strange reason, always seem to have amazing real-time videophone capabilities and the performance of a CRAY Y-MP.

Whenever a character looks at a VDU, the image is so bright that it projects itself onto his/her face. (See "Alien," "2001")

Computers never experience crashes — especially during key, high-intensity scenes.

Conclude elsewhere...

"Pardon me, folks, but this is merely a singles bar. Any commitments of a more personal nature should be concluded elsewhere!"

Contort in business?

Cow crossing

Daily requirements!

"I love getting all my minimum daily requirements first thing in the morning."

New deadly viruses out there...

Clinton Virus: gives you a 7 inch hard drive with NO memory

Viagra Virus: Makes a new hard drive out of an old floppy

Lewinsky virus: Sucks all the memory out of computer, then emails everyone what it did

Ronald Reagan virus: Saves your data, but forgets where it is stored.

Mike Tyson virus: Quits after two bytes

Oprah Winfrey virus: Your 300 MB hard drive suddenly shrinks to 100MB, then slowly expands to 200MB

Dr. Jack Kevorkian virus: Deletes all old files

Ellen Degeneres virus: Disks can no longer be inserted

Titanic Virus (a strain of the Lewinsky Virus) your whole computer goes down (but I think "we go on")

Disney virus: Everything in you computer goes Goofy

Prozac virus: Screws up your RAM but your processor doesn't care

Joey Buttafuoco virus: Only attacks minor files.

Arnold Schearzenegger virus: Terminates some files, leaves, but IT WILL BE BAAAAACK

Lorena Bobbit virus: Reformats your hard drive into a 3.5 inch floppy, then discards it through Windows

Happy New Year

Dogs & Cats

All the dog and cat owners will enjoy this. Maybe this is the reason most of us purrfurr dogs over cats.

I just realized that while children are dogs — loyal and affectionate — teenagers are cats. It's so easy to be a dog owner.

You feed it, train it, and boss it around. It puts its head on your knee and gazes at you as if you were a Rembrandt painting. It bounds indoors with enthusiasm when you call it.

Then around age 13, your adoring little puppy turns into a big old cat. When you tell it to come inside, it looks amazed, as if wondering who died and made you emperor. Instead of dogging your doorsteps, it disappears. You won't see it again until it gets hungry — then it pauses on its sprint through the kitchen long enough to turn its nose up at whatever you're serving. When you reach out to ruffle its head, in that old affectionate gesture, it twists away from you, then gives you a blank stare, as if trying to remember where it has seen you before.

You, not realizing that the dog is now a cat, think something must be desperately wrong with it. It seems so antisocial, so distant, sort of depressed. It won't go on family outings.

Since you're the one who raised it, taught it to fetch and stay and sit on command, you assume that you did something wrong. Flooded with guilt and fear, you redouble your efforts to make your pet behave.

Only now you're dealing with a cat, so everything that worked before now produces the opposite of the desired result. Call it, and it runs away. Tell it to sit, and it jumps on the counter. The more you go toward it, wringing your hands, the more it moves away.

Instead of continuing to act like a dog owner, you can learn to behave like a cat owner. Put a dish of food near the door, and let it come to you. But remember that a cat needs your help and your affection too. Sit still, and it will come, seeking that warm, comforting lap it has not entirely forgotten. Be there to open the door for it.

One day your grown-up child will walk into the kitchen, give you a big kiss and say,

"You've been on your feet all day. Let me get those dishes for you."

Then you'll realize your cat is a dog again.

Never lie to your mother.

John invited his mother over for dinner. During the meal, his mother couldn't help noticing how beautiful John's roommate Julie was. She had long been suspicious of a relationship between John and his roommate, and this only made her more curious. Over the course of the evening, while watching the two interact, she started to wonder if there was more between John and the roommate than met the eye. Reading his mom's thoughts, John volunteered, "I know what you must be thinking, but I assure you, Julie and I are just roommates."

About a week later, Julie came to John and said, "Ever since your mother came to dinner, I can't find the beautiful silver gravy ladle. You don't suppose she took it, do you?" John said, "Well, I doubt it, but I'll write her a letter just to be sure." So he sat down and wrote:

Dear Mother, I'm not saying you 'did' take a gravy ladle from my house, and I'm not saying you 'did not' take a gravy ladle. But the fact remains that one has been missing ever since you were here for dinner.

Love, John

Several days later, John received a letter from his mother which read:

Dear Son, I'm not saying that you 'do' sleep with Julie, and I'm not saying that you 'do not' sleep with Julie. But the fact remains that if she was sleeping in her own bed, she would have found the gravy ladle by now.

Love, Mom.

Embarrassing Moments

These should bring a smile!!! The following are the top three winners of a Most Embarrassing Moments Contest in the "New Woman Magazine."

1.) While in line at the bank one afternoon, my toddler decided to release some pent-up energy and ran amok. I was finally able to grab hold of her after receiving looks of disgust and annoyance from other patrons. I told her that if she did not start behaving "right now", she would be punished. To my horror, she looked me in the eye and said in a voice just as threatening, "If you don't let me go right now, I will tell Grandma that I saw you kissing Daddy's pee-pee last night!" The silence was deafening after this enlightening exchange. Even the tellers stopped what they were doing. I mustered up the last of my dignity and walked out of the bank with my daughter in tow. The last thing I heard when the door closed behind me were screams of laughter...

2.) It was the day before my eighteenth birthday. I was living at home, but my parents had gone out for the evening, so I invited my girlfriend over for a romantic night alone. As we lay in bed after making love, we heard the telephone ring downstairs. I suggested to my girlfriend that I give her a piggyback ride to the phone. Since we didn't want to miss the call, we didn't have time to get dressed. When we got to the bottom of the stairs, the lights suddenly came on and a whole crowd of people yelled, "SURPRISE!!!" My entire family, aunts, uncles, Grandparents, cousins and all my friends were standing there. My girlfriend and I were frozen in a state of shock and embarrassment for what seemed like an eternity. Since then, no one in my family has planned a surprise party again.

3.) One of the funniest "most-embarrassing-moment" stories I've come upon in a long time was about a lady who picked up several items at a discount store. When she finally got up to the checker, she learned that one of her items had no price tag. Imagine her embarrassment when the checker got on the intercom and boomed out for all the store to hear, "PRICE CHECK ON LANE THIRTEEN, TAMPAX, SUPERSIZE." That was bad enough, but somebody at the rear of the store apparently misunderstood the word "TAMPAX" for "THUMB TACKS." In a business like tone, a voice boomed back over the intercom. "DO YOU WANT THE KIND YOU PUSH IN WITH YOUR THUMB OR THE KIND YOU POUND IN WITH A HAMMER???"

4.) A teacher noticed that a little boy at the back of the class was squirming around, scratching his crotch and not paying attention. She went back to find out what was going on. He was quite embarrassed and whispered that he had just recently been circumcised and he was quite itchy. The teacher told him to go down to the principal's office, he was to phone his mother, and ask her what he should do about it. He did it and he returned to the classroom, where he sat down in his seat. Suddenly, there was a commotion at the back of the room. She went back to investigate only to find him sitting at his desk with his penis hanging out. "I thought I told you to call your mom." she screamed. "I did," he said, "and she told me that if I could stick it out till noon, she'd come and pick me up from school!"

The problem with the designated driver program, it's not a desirable job. But if you ever get sucked into doing it, have fun with it. At the end of the night, drop them off at the wrong house. - Jeff Foxworthy

Farmer Fun

A farmer buys a cute little filly that he plans on racing next season, but when he gets her home, his old stallion smells her and wants her and starts kicking up dust. The farmer doesn't want her knocked up, because she won't be able to race, so he calls the vet. The vet tells him to tie a bed sheet around the filly's rump to keep the stallion away. So that day, the farmer does just that. The next day, the farmer goes out to the corral to make sure the vet's solution worked, but the filly's nowhere to be found. The farmer follows her hoof trail to the neighbor's farm, and sees the neighbor's kid out by their barn.

"Hey boy, did you see a filly run by with a bed sheet tied around her rump?" the farmer asks.

The kid replies, "No sir, but one dashed past here early this morning with a handkerchief sticking out of her ass!"

Football

During the 1st half of the Super Bowl, a man who is sitting way back in the stands notices that a man down near the 50 yard line has had an open seat next to him the entire time. Knowing that the game is a sell-out, he gets curious and decides to see why.

He walks down and asks him, "Did you reserve the seat next to you?" The man says "yes, but after I purchased the seats, my wife passed away". The first man says, "Oh, I'm so sorry to hear that. But couldn't you have asked any of your friends to come to the game with you?"

He replies, "Well, I could have, but they are all at the funeral".

Cat lovers?For Mothers everywhere

This is a classic...

One afternoon a man came home from work to find total mayhem in his house.

His three children were outside, still in their pajamas, playing in the mud, with empty food boxes and wrappers strewn all around the front yard. The door of his wife's car was open, as was the front door to the house. Proceeding into the entry, he found an even bigger mess. A lamp had been knocked over, and the throw rug was wadded against one wall. In the front room the TV was loudly blaring a cartoon channel, and the family room was strewn with toys and various items of clothing. In the kitchen, dishes filled the sink, breakfast food was spilled on the counter, dog food was spilled on the floor, a broken glass lay under the table, and a small pile of sand was spread by the back door.

He quickly headed up the stairs, stepping over toys and more piles of clothes, looking for his wife. He was worried she may be ill, or that something serious had happened. He found her lounging in the bedroom, still curled in the bed in her pajamas, reading a novel. She looked up at him, smiled, and asked how his day went.

He looked at her bewildered and asked, "What happened here today?"

She again smiled and answered, "You know every day when you come home from work and ask me what in the world did I do today?"

"Yes" was his incredulous reply.

She answered, "Well, today I didn't do it."

Garfield, can't do that!

Ghost

There was this party in the woods and all of a sudden there was a downpour of thunder and rain, these two young guys ran for about 10 minutes in the pouring rain, finally reaching their car just as the rain let up. They jumped in the car, started it up and headed down the road, laughing and, of course, still drinking one beer after another.

All of a sudden an old man's face appeared in the passenger window and tapped lightly on the window! The passenger screamed out, "eeeeekkk! Look at my window!!! There's an old guy's face there!" (Was this a ghost?!?!?!?) This old man kept knocking, so the driver said "well open the window a little and ask him what he wants!"

So the passenger rolled his window down part way and said, scared out of his wits, "What do you want???" The old man softly replied, "You have any tobacco?" The passenger, terrified, looked at the driver and said, "He wants tobacco!"

"Well offer him a cigarette! HURRY!!" the driver replies. So he fumbles around with the pack and hands the old man a cigarette and yells, "Step on it!!!" rolling up the window in terror. Now going about 80 miles an hour, they calm down and they start laughing again, and the passenger says, "What do you think of that?" The driver says, "I don't know? How could that be? I am going pretty fast?"

Then all of a sudden AGAIN there is a knock on the window and there is the old man again. "aaaaaaaaaaaaa, there he is again!", the passenger yells.

"Well see what he wants now!" yells back the driver. He rolls down the window a little ways and shakily says "Yes?"

"Do you have a light?" the old man quietly asks. The driver throws a lighter out the window at him and rolls up the window and yells, "STEP ON IT!"

They are now going about 100 miles an hour and still guzzling beer, trying to forget what they had just seen and heard, when all of a sudden again there is more knocking!

"Oh my God! HE'S BACK!" He rolls down the window and screams out in stark fear: "WHAT DO YOU WANT?"

The old man gently replies, "You want some help getting out of the mud?"

GirlFriend v1.0

Last year a friend of mine upgraded GirlFriend 1.0 to Wife 1.0 and found that it's a memory hog leaving very little system resources for other applications. He is only now noticing that Wife 1.0 also is spawning Child-Processes, which are further consuming valuable resources. No mention of these particular phenomena was included in the product brochure or the documentation, though other users have informed him that this is to be expected due to the nature of the application. Not only that, Wife 1.0 installs itself such that it is always launched at system initialization where it can monitor all other system activity.

He's finding that some applications such as Poker Night 10.3, Beer Bash 2.0 and Pub Night 7.0 are no longer able to run in the system at all, crashing the system when selected (even though they always worked just fine before).

Installation: Wife 1.0 provides no option as to the installation of undesired Plug-Ins such as MotherInLaw 55.8 and Brother In Law Beta release. Also, system performance seems to diminish with each passing day. Again, this is something to be expected?

Some features he'd like to see in the upcoming wife 2.0.

- A "Don't remind me again" button
- Minimize button
- An install shield feature that allows Wife 2.0 to be installed with the option to uninstall at anytime without the loss of cache and other system resources.
- An option to run the network driver in promiscuous mode which would allow the systems hardware probe feature to be much more useful.

I myself decided to avoid all of the headaches associated with Wife 1.0 by sticking with Girlfriend 2.0. Even here, however, I found many problems. Apparently you cannot install Girlfriend 2.0 on top of Girlfriend 1.0.

You must uninstall Girlfriend 1.0 first. Other users say this is a long-standing bug, which I should have been aware of. Apparently the versions of Girlfriend have conflicts over shared use of the I/O port. You think they would have fixed such a stupid bug by now.

To make matters worse, the uninstall program for Girlfriend 1.0 doesn't work very well leaving undesirable traces of the application in the system.

One other thing that annoys — all versions of Girlfriend continually popup little annoying messages about the advantages of upgrading to Wife 1.0. Kinda like Microsoft registration and upgrade messages.

***** BUG WARNING *****

Wife 1.0 has an undocumented bug. If you try to install Mistress 1.1 before uninstalling Wife 1.0, Wife 1.0 will delete MSMoney files before doing the uninstall itself. Then Mistress 1.1 will refuse to install, claiming insufficient system resources.

*** BUG WORK-AROUND *****

To avoid the above bug, try installing Mistress 1.1 on a different system and never run any file transfer applications such as Laplink 6.0.

Also, beware of similar shareware applications that have been known to carry viruses that may affect Wife 1.0. Another solution would be to run Mistress 1.0 via an Internet provider under an anonymous name.

Here again, beware of the viruses that can accidentally be downloaded from the Internet.

Great Comeback

This has got to be the all-time classic comeback. This is an exact recount of US National Public Radio (NPR) interview between a female broadcaster, and US Army General Reinwald who was about to sponsor a Boy scout Troop visiting his military installation.

FEMALE INTERVIEWER: "So, General Reinwald, what things are you going to teach these young boys when they visit your base?"

GENERAL REINWALD: "We're going to teach them climbing, canoeing, archery, and shooting."

FEMALE INTERVIEWER: "Shooting! That's a bit irresponsible, isn't it?"

GENERAL REINWALD: "I don't see why, they'll be properly supervised on the rifle range."

FEMALE INTERVIEWER: "Don't you admit that this is a terribly dangerous activity to be teaching children?"

GENERAL REINWALD: "I don't see how, ....we will be teaching them proper rifle range discipline before they even touch a firearm.”

FEMALE INTERVIEWER: “But you’re equipping them to become violent killers.”

GENERAL REINWALD: “ Well, you’re equipped to be a prostitute, but you’re not one, are you?”

The radio went silent and the interview ended.

Halloween Costume Party

A couple was invited to a swanky masked Halloween party. She got a terrible headache and told her husband to go to the party alone. He, being a devoted husband, protested, but she argued and said she was going to take some aspirin and go to bed, and there was no need for his good time to be spoiled by not going. So he took his costume and away he went.

The wife, after sleeping soundly for about an hour, awakened without pain; and, as it was still early, decided to go to the party. In as much as her husband did not know what her costume was, she thought she would have some fun by watching her husband to see how he acted when she was not with him.

She joined the party and soon spotted her husband cavorting around on the dance floor, dancing with every nice chick he could and copping a little feel here and a little kiss there. His wife went up to him and being a rather seductive babe herself, he left his partner high and dry and devoted his time to the new stuff that had just arrived.

She let him go as far as he wished, naturally, since he was her husband. Finally he whispered a little proposition in her ear and she agreed, so off they went to one of the cars and had a little bang. Just before unmasking at midnight, she slipped away and went home and put the costume away and got into bed, wondering what kind of explanation he would make for his behavior.

She was sitting up reading when he came in and asked what kind of a time he had.

He said, "Oh, the same old thing. You know I never have a good time when you're not there." Then she asked, "Did you dance much?"

He replied, "I'll tell you, I never even danced one dance. When I got there, I met Pete, Bill Brown and some other guys, so we went into the den and played poker all evening. But I'll tell you.... the guy I loaned my costume to, sure had a real good time!"

Horsing around

A group of Indians capture a cowboy and bring him back to their camp to meet the chief.

The chief says to the cowboy, "You going to die. But we sorry for you, so give you one wish a day for three days. On sundown of third day, you die. What is the first wish?"

The cowboy says, " I want to see my horse."

The Indians get his horse. The cowboy grabs the horse's ear and whispers something, then slaps the horse on the ass. The horse takes off. Two hours later, the horse comes back with a nude blonde. She jumps off the horse and goes into the teepee with the cowboy. The Indians look at each other, figuring, "typical white man - can only think of one thing."

The second day, the chief says, "What your wish today?"

The cowboy says. "I want to see my horse again."

The Indians bring him his horse. The cowboy leans over to the horse and whispers something in the horse's ear, then slaps it on the ass. Two hours later, the horse comes back with a nude redhead. She gets off and goes in the teepee with the cowboy. The Indians shake their heads, figuring, "Typical white man - going to die tomorrow and can only think of one thing."

The last day comes, and the chief says, "This your last wish, white man. What you want?"

The cowboy says, "I want to see my horse again."

The Indians bring him his horse. The cowboy grabs the horse by both ears, twists them hard and yells,

"Read My lips! POSSE, damn it! - - - P-O-S-S-E!"

Irish day care!

Hey, now I'm a quarter Irish, so take a joke!

Just use a vase. . .

There are two ladies at work, sitting in a small office. A courier comes in and gives the one of the ladies flowers, sent by her husband. "That's nice" marks the other lady.
 "No it isn't. This means I've got to stay awake and keep my legs up all night". She replied.
 "Why don't you just use a vase?"

Kept waiting?

"Hope I haven't kept you waiting too long, dear!"

Let's make a deal:

One day God finds Adam wandering around the garden with a really hangdog expression on his face. He's just shuffling along, scuffing the dirt with his foot and generally looking dejected.

God says, "Adam, what's the matter? Don't you like the Garden I made?"

"No, the Garden's great," says Adam, "I guess I'm just lonely."

"Hmmm..." says God, "That's a problem all right."

Tell you what; I can make you a companion. Someone with whom you can talk about anything you like, who will always be interested, who will cook and clean for you, never complain about anything, never need anything from you, and who will always be ready for fun and games or who will leave you alone when you need solitude. This companion will be a perfect match for your needs, and will also be pleasant to look upon forever. All it will cost you is an arm and a leg. What do you say?"

"Well," says Adam, "Sounds really nice but sort of expensive...What can I get for a rib?"

Monkey business

A man walks into a bar with a monkey he had just bought at the pet store. He sits down at the bar and orders a beer. The monkey jumps down off his shoulder and runs over to the pool table and ate the cue ball. The bartender said

"Your monkey just ate the cue-ball!!!! GET OUT NOW!!!" the man left.

Two months later the same man comes back with the monkey on a leash. The monkey jumps off his shoulder and grabs a peanut, shoves it up his ass, pulls it out then eats it.

The bartender said, " Did your monkey just shove a peanut up his ass then eat it?"

The man says "Yeah ever since the cue ball incident he checks everything for size first!"

Restroom Memo!

MEMORANDUM

T0: All Employees
 FROM: Management
 DATE: March 24, 1990
 RE: Restroom Guidelines

In the past, employees were permitted to make trips to the restroom under informal guidelines. Effective May 1, 1990, a Restroom Trip Policy (RTP) will be established to provide a consistent method of accounting for each employee's restroom time and ensuring equal treatment of all employees.

Under this policy a "RESTROOM TRIP BANK" will be established for each employee. The first day each month, the employees will be given a Restroom Trip credit of 20. Restroom trip credits can be accumulated from month to month.

Within two weeks, the entrances to all restrooms are being equipped with personnel identification stations and computer-linked voice print recognition devices. Before the end of May, each employee must provide two copies of voice prints (one normal and one, under stress) to Technical Operations. The voice print recognition stations will be operational, but not restrictive, for the month of May: employees should acquaint themselves with the stations during that period.

If an employee's RESTROOM TRIP BANK balance reaches zero, the doors to the restroom will not unlock for that employees voice until the first of the next month. In addition, all restroom stalls are being equipped with timed paper roll retractors. If the stall is occupied for more than three minutes, an alarm will sound. Thirty seconds after the alarm sounds, the roll of paper in the stall will retract, the toilet will flush, and the stall door will open. If the stall still remains occupied, your picture will be taken.

The pictures will then be posted on the company bulletin boards. This is being done to eliminate DILLY-DALLYING in the rest rooms. Anyone's picture showing up three times will, immediately, be terminated.

If you have any questions about this new policy, please contact your administrator/manager.

Silicon Valley Vs Detroit!

When Silicon Valley wants to look good, it measures itself against Detroit. The comparison goes like this: If automotive technology had kept pace with computer technology over the past few decades, you would now be driving a V-32 instead of a V-8, and it would have a top speed of 10,000 miles per hour. Or you could have an economy car that weighs 30 pounds and gets a thousand miles to a gallon of gas. In either case the sticker price of a new car would be less than $50.

In response to all this goading, Detroit grumbles: Yes, but would you really want to drive a car that crashes twice a day?

Ten Commandments

An elderly man was quite unhappy because he had lost his favorite hat. Instead of buying a new one, he decided he would go to church and swipe one from the vestibule.

When he got there, an usher intercepted him at the door and took him to a pew where he had to sit and listen to the entire sermon on "The Ten Commandments."

After church, the man met the preacher in the vestibule doorway, shook his hand vigorously, and told him "I want to thank you preacher for saving my soul today. I came to church to steal a hat and after hearing your sermon about the 10 Commandments, I decided against it."

Preacher: "You mean the commandment 'I shall not steal' changed your mind?"

Old Man: "No, the one about adultery did. As soon as you said that I remember where I left my old hat!"

Who's the best?

The LAPD, The FBI, and the CIA are all trying to prove that they are the best at apprehending criminals. The President decides to give them a test. He releases a rabbit into a forest and each of them has to catch it.

The CIA goes in. They place animal informants throughout the forest. They question all plant and mineral witnesses. After three months of extensive investigations they conclude that rabbits do not exist.

The FBI goes in. After two weeks with no leads they burn the forest, killing everything in it, including the rabbit, and they make no apologies. The rabbit had it coming.

The LAPD goes in. They come out two hours later with a badly beaten bear. The bear is yelling: "Okay! Okay! I'm a rabbit! I'm a rabbit!"

Your the boss. . .

There once was a successful rancher who died and left everything to his devoted wife. She was determined to keep the ranch and make a go of it, but she knew very little about ranching, so she decided to place an ad in the newspaper for ranch hands. Two men applied for the job. One was gay and the other a drunk. She thought long and hard about it, and when no one else applied, she decided to hire the gay guy, figuring it would be safer to have him around the house than the drunk. He turned out to be a fantastic worker, worked long, hard hours every day and knew a lot about ranching. For weeks the two of them worked, and the ranch was doing really well.

Then one day the rancher's wife said to the hired hand, "You have done a really good job and we've both done nothing but work for weeks. The ranch looks great, and I'm taking Saturday night off and going into town to kick up my heels and paint the town red, and I think you should do the same."

The hired hand agreed readily, and Saturday night each went to town. The rancher's wife had dinner and a lot of drinks with friends, and talked and joked and danced, and had a great time, getting home about midnight. The hired hand wasn't home yet, so she decided to wait up for him. One o'clock and no hired hand yet. Two o'clock and no hired hand and she began to worry. At two-thirty in came the hired hand. The rancher's wife was sitting by the fireplace and called him over by her.

"Now I'm the boss," she said, "and you have to do what I tell you, right?"

"Well, yes," he answered.

"Then unbutton my blouse and take it off," she said. He did as she asked.

"Now take off my shoes." He did.

"Now take off my stockings." He did.

"Now take off my skirt." He did.

"Now take off my bra." Again he did as she asked.

"Now take off my panties." And again he did what she told him.

Then she looked at him and said; "Don't you ever wear my clothes to town again."

With that said, I'm wrapping up this volumn. . .
